BIG IDEAS
ABOUT FOOD?
GET THEM OFF
THE GROUND

CALLING ALL LAMBETH FOOD START-UPS!

Are you in the early stages of creating a food enterprise and looking for some expert advice?

Do you have a great business idea but need some help to get it off the ground?

This September, the Lambeth Food Partnership launches CREATE, a free programme for local food start-ups.

Over six sessions, budding food entrepreneurs will hear from business experts on a range of key issues. You'll have the chance to network, tap into local resources, and find out what it takes to create a thriving food enterprise.
